

I support the current law as it stands. I do not wish to have the number of incoming calls to my home increase with solicitors - I never have, and never will, purchase anything from anyone who calls my home directly. In today's society, a person does not know who to trust when being solicited over the phone, via e-mail, or through a fax, and it is for those reasons that I encourage you to keep those contacts from coming into my home.